
ST. JOHN THE BAPTIST CATHOLIC CHURCH

January 18, 2026 | Second Sunday in Ordinary Time | Artist: Unknown

FROM OUR PRIESTS

Dear Brothers and Sisters,

Today we are in week two of our preaching series on our parish mission statement: St. John the Baptist Catholic Church exists in order to form a community of Spirit-filled missionary disciples of Jesus. Today, we want to focus on the role we play as missionaries who are sent to proclaim the Gospel. Having been transformed by the love of the Father, we want to joyfully share with the world the One who has brought us from death to life, from darkness to light. As we read in John's first letter, there is a burning desire to have others share our joy in the Good News:

"That which was from the beginning, which we have heard, which we have seen with our eyes, which we have looked at and our hands have touched—this we proclaim concerning the Word of life. The life appeared; we have seen it and testify to it, and we proclaim to you the eternal life, which was with the Father and has appeared to us. We proclaim to you what we have seen and heard, so that you also may have fellowship with us. And our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son, Jesus Christ. We write this to make our joy complete." (1 Jn 1:1-4)

John's joy is not complete until his audience also hears of Jesus and is able to respond in faith; you could certainly read yourself in here: your faith in Christ and your belonging to Christ complete John's joy. Likewise, for us, our joy is not complete without sharing Christ with others and seeing them come to faith in Him as well. Certainly, not everyone will want to hear what we have to say, but you never know who will respond to the Gospel; sometimes it surprises me who hears the Gospel and then turns their life over to Jesus. Paul talks about the reality of those who have not yet heard the Gospel, and the importance of sending preachers to them:

"How, then, can they call on the one they have not believed in? And how can they believe in the one of whom they have not heard? And how can they hear without someone preaching to them? And how can anyone preach unless they are sent? As it is written: "How beautiful are the feet of those who bring good news!" (Rom 10:14)

The same urgency is present in Evangelii Nuntiandi: "The Church has a vivid awareness of the fact that the Savior's words, 'I must proclaim the Good News of the kingdom of God,' apply in all truth to herself... Evangelizing is in fact the grace and vocation proper to the Church, her deepest identity. She exists in order to evangelize." (Evangelii Nuntiandi, 14)

I hope that you will come to see yourself more and more as someone to whom Jesus has specifically entrusted a message that is both for you and for you to share. You are someone who, having been called into friendship with God, is also called to invite others.

God Bless You, Fr. Dan

LIVING MISSIONARY DISCIPLESHIP

A TESTIMONY BY Becky Diachun

My name is Becky Diachun. I have been Catholic my entire life and a member of St. John the Baptist for 8 years.

My journey as a disciple of Christ started when I was young. As a child, I learned about my faith both in school and at home during a time in the Church when how children were exposed to the faith changed. One of my first faith formation memories was in the 1st grade. I came home to get my religion test signed. I had all the questions correct according to my teacher but my father proceeded to recorrect my test and mark things wrong. I learned then that I was personally responsible for knowing what the Church teaches. Yes, I had to know the facts but I also had to know Jesus and continually increase my knowledge and understanding of both. I learned later that in the fullness of the Faith; they were both right.

The next milestone in my growth as a disciple occurred when I came to the knowledge that coming to a relationship with Christ implies having a relationship with many others, too.
“And they devoted themselves to the apostles' teaching and fellowship, to the breaking of bread and the prayers.” (Acts 2:42)

I had known ‘apostolic teaching’ and faithfully participating in the breaking of the bread (Mass) but it was then that my prayer life began to mature and the importance of Christian fellowship became personal.

This fit nicely into my plan for my life. Or so I thought. I was a young adult when the Lord challenged me by DRASTICALLY changing my personal life plan and turned me towards the road to discipleship that He had for me. This was to be my discipleship story.
“For my thoughts are not your thoughts, neither are your ways my ways, says the Lord.” (Isa 55:8)

Through both my vocation as a wife and mother and as a catechist in the Catholic Church, the Lord would continue to redirect me on the mission path that I had chosen. Many a trial and closed doors or ‘no’s’ from the Lord through the fellow disciples in the mission field as well as in my personal life have kept me humbled and reminded to always trust in the Lord. Throughout all the changes in the ‘how’, however, the mission stays fundamentally the same – to share the depth of truth in Christ’s Church and Her teachings to those He puts in my path because to know Him is to love Him and fully to know His Church allows a faithful surrender to His plan for our holiness. This season in my life as a missionary disciple is anchored in understanding that in the Gospel, Jesus first said,
“Follow me, and I will make you fishers of men.” (Mt 4:19)

We must first and always follow Him before we can effectively,
“...make disciples of all nations...teaching them to observe all that I have commanded you.” (Mt 28: 19, 20)

CAMPUS MINISTRY

STUDENTS REFLECT ON THEIR TIME AT SEEK 2026

"I encountered the Lord with a deeper understanding of my worth and love in Him. I have felt very distant for a couple months now and didn't really know why, then He met me and told me through the speakers what I needed to hear. Now I am very on fire to dive deeper, ask the questions, and just to be with the Lord in silence and beautiful boredom, to let my mind think and understand".

–Miriam Westrick

"I came in struggling with relationships and the Lord helped me understand how to get through those hard parts in those relationships".

–Emma Burns

"I really experienced a deepening of my faith. Through the talks, I gained practical advice and grew in confidence in my faith. I was also able to better understand the Lord's wondrous and beautiful love and mercy, and the deep relationship He is calling me to have with Him. I also came to grasp the standard He is calling me to, so that I may be happy and holy."

–Anna Therese Jobst

"It helped me realize the gift of masculinity and how God calls me to reject the 'toxic masculinity' of society and to be a masculine man of the Father".

St. Marianne Cope

JANUARY 23RD, 2026

Born in Germany, Barbara Koob was raised in Utica, New York, and was born on January 23, 1838. She was one of ten children of her parents, Peter and Barbara Koob. Shortly before Barbara turned one, the family moved to Utica and joined St. Joseph's Parish, where she and her siblings would also attend grade school.

By the time Barbara was twenty-four years old, she had discerned a call to religious life. She joined the Sisters of Saint Francis in Syracuse, New York, and took the name Marianne. Over the next twenty-one years, she served as a teacher, principal, mother superior, hospital founder, and held many other leadership roles within her community. In 1860, her position on the leadership board contributed to the establishment of two hospitals in central New York.

A quality that greatly contributed to the cause for Mother Marianne's sainthood was her kindness and humility, especially toward society's outcasts. Although she was often criticized for her compassion, she was deeply loved and admired for her big heart.

In 1883, Mother Marianne received a life-changing letter from a priest in Hawaii, asking her to send sisters willing to care for patients suffering from leprosy. She joyfully responded:

"I am hungry for the work and I wish with all my heart to be one of the chosen ones, whose privilege it will be to sacrifice themselves for the salvation of the souls of the poor Islanders.... I am not afraid of any disease; hence, it would be my greatest delight even to minister to the abandoned 'lepers'."

At that time, more than fifty other religious orders had declined this request, but Mother Marianne graciously accepted, along with six other sisters from the convent. They prayed, taught, and cared for the spiritual and physical needs of all afflicted by Hansen's Disease (leprosy), while also making many improvements to the medical facilities in Hawaii.

In 1884, Mother Marianne met the future saint Damien de Veuster, who also devoted his life to caring for those with leprosy on the small island of Molokai. Two years later, Damien contracted the disease himself and was outcast. In 1888, Marianne went to Molokai to care for him during his last year of life, promising to continue the good work he was doing at the boys' home he founded in Kalawao.

Mother Marianne lived her life "to make life as pleasant and as comfortable as possible for those of our fellow creatures whom God has chosen to afflict with this terrible disease...", and she faithfully did so until her death. She passed away of natural causes on August 9, 1918. She is the patron saint of lepers, outcasts, and people with HIV/AIDS.

St. Marianne Cope, pray for us!
